Tuskeana '44

It is with a pervading spirit, concentrated in good will, that the Class of 1944 greets you with this issue of TUSKEANA. If its pages shall reveal the expansion of our beloved institution in all that is fitting for the development of mind, body and soul, the editors of TUSKEANA will feel that the effort on their part is crowned with success.

HOLLIS BURKE FRISSELL LIBRARY

FOREWORD

Out of our many and varied experiences had while here at dear ole 'Skegee we have conned a few memories which we feel will be well worth remembering.

If in some day to come you may turn these pages and find some hint of laughter or joy, industry or versatility or some thought which will bring a pang of remembrance to your heart we will feel that this book was well worth the effort expended.

THE EDITOR.

This book, being published in times of chaos and uncertainty, when those we love are fighting for a way of life which will make all men equal in reality and give to all of us equal opportunities, necessitates a reorganization of our thoughts and ideals.

In view of the global war that we are fighting and the absence of our loved ones from our hearths, it behooves us to recognize their sacrifice by dedicating our efforts to the democratic way of life and those who fight to maintain it.

ENTREATY

DEDICATED TO THE "SONS OF TUSKEGEE"

When I have spilled my blood on battle fields

And silenced rest beneath the ransomed sod,

May there be solitude and peace

Where guns have roared and I have trod;

And may there be no mobs that spread their fear

By night, no raven faces robbed of cheer.

When I with every sinew have subdued

The "axis tyrants" and the "rising sun"

May there be none who will forget

The life I gave, may there be none

Who soon neglect the promises they made

When I with pride my country's call obeyed.

SGT. FRED D. BROWN, Class '44.

OUR ADVISERS

MORTEZA D. SPRAGUE

Librarian of Tuskegee Institute

Sagacious, benevolent, and genial, he gave unstintingly of his time and advice to the TUSKEANA staff.

BOOKER TALIAFERRO WASHINGTON

Booker T. Washington, Founder of Tuskegee Institute, was a pioneer in the field of industrial education. With indomitable courage, fortitude, and inspiration, he founded a great institution in the midst of a wilderness of poverty, ignorance, and prejudice. He emphasized the educational doctrine of practical training: "We shall prosper in proportion as we learn to glorify and dignify labor, and put brains and skill into the common occupations of life." Educator, orator, diplomat, benefactor, Dr. Washington set Tuskegee Institute on the path of service to man, race and nation.

DR. ROBERT RUSSA MOTON

As a successor to a Man of the Ages, Robert Russa Moton, Second President of Tuskegee Institute, was confronted with the herculean task of maintaining Tuskegee's prestige in the educational world and assuming a role of leadership in the social and political welfare of his people. With dauntless courage and intrepidity, Dr. Moton faced his difficulties and conquered them. At the end of his regime, Tuskegee Institute was stronger financially and in reputation than ever before. A noted administrator, a Christian gentleman, a consecrated educator, Robert Russa Moton devoted his life to the service of others.

FREDERICK DOUGLAS PATTERSON

Young, energetic, consecrated Frederick Douglas Patterson, Third President of Tuskegee Institute, began a new era in the institution's history. On the foundation laid by his predecessors, Dr. Patterson developed and reorganized Tuskegee Institute in accordance with the modern needs and precepts of education, maintaining the integral aims and traditions of the school. Educator, race leader, humanitarian, Frederick Douglas Patterson is today the epitome of that unselfish devotion, service, and leadership that since the beginning of time, has contributed to the cause of the common good and the betterment of man.

OUR DEANS

DR. I. A. DERBIGNY

Administrative Dean

Dr. Derbigny knows how to extend sympathy to those who are climbing the educational ladder. He is sympathetic and understanding to those who are in distress over their grade points.

MRS. JESSIE P. GUZMAN

Dean of Women

To get along amicably with Mrs. Guzman, all that is required is that you obey the rules and regulations of Tuskegee Institute.

MR. E. H. ADAMS

Dean of Men

The Dean is young, healthy, and full of vim and vigor. He is genial in disposition, a good disciplinarian, a good friend, a loving brother, and a kindly father to the men of Tuskegee Institute.

CLASS WILL

Having toiled sedulously for a period of four years (or more) and having accumulated a quantity of invaluable possessions, we have the desire and urge to bequeath these treasures to those who we feel will strive hardest to protect them.

Thus, we, the members of the Senior Class, on this the 22nd day of May, nineteen hundred and forty-four, do hereby solemnly make the following will to our dear old Alma Mater, and to the persons herein named, the following legacies:

To the faculty we willingly relinquish the knowledge they have gained during the past four years from our exam papers.

To the Juniors we bequeath our dignity, superior positions, ingrained ability to do right and our good wishes.

To the Sophomores we will you the right to live in White Hall your Junior and Senior years, for that is where you rightfully belong.

To the Freshman we will you the right to study when you please and not as commanded.

Elisabeth Alford—"Tiny" bequeathes her petiteness to Beatrice Medley and to Geraldine Talton she leaves her business-like acumen.

Mildred Balthazar—"Mil" wills her whining to any Junior who thinks she can get anywhere with it.

Alice Baker—As Alice leaves the largest girls' dormitory on the campus, she sighs and hopes that some good girl will be able to fill her position.

Eliot Battle—Wills his nerve to take Agriculture to any city student and he also wills the gavel to Herbert Robbs, hoping that he will do a better job.

Claudia Batey—Gives her sewing technique over to any industrious Junior Home Economics student.

Juanita Beaty—Leaves her ability to handle the class' money to the treasurer of the Junior Class.

Beatrice Bettis—Betty bequeaths her slenderness and alertness to Valena Withers.

Beulah Bosh—Wilfully Bosh leaves with her sister, Pauline, her ability to study the C. D. subject matter and make the hashes well.

Carter Bowman—Bowman, our most popular and most ideal boy, wills his position as captain of the football team to Alva Tabor.

Doris Joan Brown wills the presidency of the Home Economics Club to the energetic, ambitious, and determined young lady of the Junior Home Economics Class who has enough leadership ability to take up where she left off and carry on.

Roberthe Bush wills her office in the Education Building to Minnie Irby.

Barbara Chapelle—Barbara graciously leaves to Naomi Henry, her quiet, lady-like characteristics.

Lois Catchings—Good-natured Lois wills her intellectual mind to Susie Burwell, and to Rachel Ephraim she wills her ability to laugh at her troubles.

Ernestine V. Cottrell—Mrs. Cottrell wills her ability to keep one boy friend four years to Miss Emma Lee Ware, and to Theolda Welborne her ability to say much in a short time.

Rosalind Curl—Patty leaves her little sisters to do all the things she didn't get a chance to do in her four years and asks them to have a good time while doing it.

Imogene Finch—To Luther Brazil, Imogene leaves her height and friendliness.

Olga Ford—This attractive nurse bequeathes her ability to soothe her patient's brow to "Lil" Burton.

Margaret Fox leaves her nickname, "Miss Legs," to Margaret Johnson.

Emmaline Harlowe—As "Emmie" goes from the stage of the Little Theater, where she has thrilled many an audience, she weeps and wonders who can take her place as the "Bette" Davis of the Little Theater.

CLASS WILL

Otis Head—Head wills his position as a star football player to Homer Griggs and Walter Woods.

Mary Heyward—"Bet" leaves to the U. S. O. Annie's her leisure time for bridge games with the soldiers.

Lois Hicks—To Alberetta Dupree, Lois leaves her hearty appetite. May she eat and grow larger.

Muriel Howell wills her natural red-gold hair to all the Juniors who try to make theirs red by dyeing it.

Hilda Hutchinson wills her ability to charm the young men and at the same time to any musically inclined young person to be able to charm the bell lyre.

Vernetta Ingraham wills her job at the hospital to Vivian Small in the hope that she will also get fat.

Gladys Jinks wills her room off-campus and her freedom to Mary White.

Ceola Johnson leaves her ability to be a competent secretary of your selected organization to any capable person.

The two Thelmas, McDaniel and Reeves, will their ability to play tennis to Vivian Small and Dorothy Robinson.

Clara McDowell wills her ability to play it cool to anyone who thinks they need it.

Neal McFadden wills her many titles held on the campus to Geraldine Talton.

Irene Parrish extends her ability to supervise and direct dormitory activities to Beatrice Medley and her ability to act as matron or eventually Dean of Women of Tuskegee Institute.

Carrie Belle Patrick wills her calmness, dignity and poise to Jewell Wedlaw.

Jesse Pendarvis wills his ability to get a girl friend who will not run him out of the library with a shoe to Charles White. Also he wills his good time had while at Tuskegee to any person who wants it.

Ola Mae Norwood wills her trombone, her voice and imitations and her versatility to anyone unique enough to handle them.

Militerine Sherney bequeathes her versatility, energy and ability to stay slender dieting to Valena Withers and to Minnie Irby she wills her positions (all of them) to Minnie if she will faithfully promise to make the Institute Council what it should be.

Thomas Simmons wills his position on the Annual Staff to any up and coming Junior, hoping that they will put the job over well.

Charles U. Smith bequeathes his successful managing of social and non-social organizations to Felix Parrish.

Theresa Catledge Suggs wills her ability to enjoy life at any price to Priscilla James.

Juliette Strickland wills to all worthy persons the ability to smile, no matter how life treats her.

Lovette Washington—Her presidency of the Ki-Yi Club to the oncoming Junior of that club; her vice-presidency of the Little Theater to Elaine Freeman Thomas.

Lizzie Whitaker wills her easy going manner to Edythe Kitchens.

Mary Helen Wheeler wills her ability to revive the hidden charm through the art of cosmetology to Laurelia Washington.

Cornelius Williams hopes that all patriots and interested young men in agriculture, namely Charles White, will be able to converse with the hens and turkeys on the "Ag" side as he has done heretofore.

Alexinia Young wills her cornet to Susie Thompson, hoping that she will some day become bugler and keep up the work which she has started. She also wills the "Skegee Collegians" to James Mitchell, hoping that he will keep it going.

CLASS HISTORY

'Twas the year of 1940 and some 500 strong we were! That was when the sophs acted as if they were seniors and took advantage of their supremacy by insisting that we wear green caps and sit in the "crab section" of the Dining Hall. We did it too, without being asked twice, and enjoyed it! That was the year when, because of the surplus number . . . eh, what! . . . of young men, we never had to carry our dishes to the depository but instead busboys graciously removed them from the tables. Theodore Lang was elected president of our class and Mr. Flood our sponsor. It was smooth sailing for the Freshman Class, until a catastrophe, in the mild form of THE STRIKE interrupted our lives. What excitement it caused us inexperienced crabs.

Crabets eagerly looked forward to the "Third Quarter" when they'd be treated as "women." That was when club dances were the last word. . . . Remember? What a year!

In '41, the Army moved in and occupied the Bath House. There were still a few male students here then. At least, we still had our star basketball and football player. But after "Pearl Harbor" . . . Uncle Sam's "greetings" began to arrive post haste. Henry Nixon was our president. This year was rather uneventful.

With the coming of '42 we experienced several new sensations. First of all, we were upperclassmen, looking forward to our last year. Time had really flown and we were looking back trying to see how the time has gone. This is the year that the Army really took over and the girls . . . oh, so many uniforms . . . weren't those cadets fine? We lost quite a few of our male students, but the cadets stepped in, and we soon became accustomed to the new faces. Our Prom, my, my . . . a fine affair . . . did you see our Navy fellows?

Our Senior year at last. Uncle Sam decided that we didn't really need any men, so he took all but eight. Gee, it was all left up to us girls. How do you think we did it? Many things happened to the Senior women. For the first time in the history of Tuskegee . . . women lived in Rockefeller, a woman was editor of both the TUSKEANA, and the Digest, a woman was President of the Institute Council . . . a woman blew the bugle . . . and women played in the swing orchestra . . . "Skegee Collegians." What a revolution. As it all comes to an end, we look back with fond memories, and heavy heart, for we are about to leave our dear alma mater . . . Tuskegee, the pride of the swift growing South. We carry fond memories of heart-aches and sorrow, happiness and laughter from the portals of Tuskegee out into the world which we now face. "May auld acquaintance be forgot and never brought to . . ."

IN APPRECIATION

The work involved in the publishing of a college annual is seldom realized. Much credit should be given to the staff. The editor appreciates the yeoman service rendered by the members of the staff. Thanks to our Business Manager, Dicy Thomas; to our Advertising Manager, Thomas Simmons, and to our artist and cartoonist, Sgt. Roy La Grone and Lois Hicks.

Many are apt to give all the credit to the staff. However, there are three other forces which combine in the creation of a yearbook. These are, namely: Photographing, engraving and printing. To Mr. Johnny Long of Foote and Davies, and Mr. Walt Dargan of Photo-Process Engraving Co., go our thanks for their timely suggestions and assistance.

To this list we must add the names of our faculty advisers, Luther H. Foster, Jr., Morteza D. Sprague and Marcellus W. Freeman.

To these persons mentioned, and many other contributors, we take this means of giving our sincere thanks and assure you that it was appreciated.
