Flashback to the 70's Skegee Style

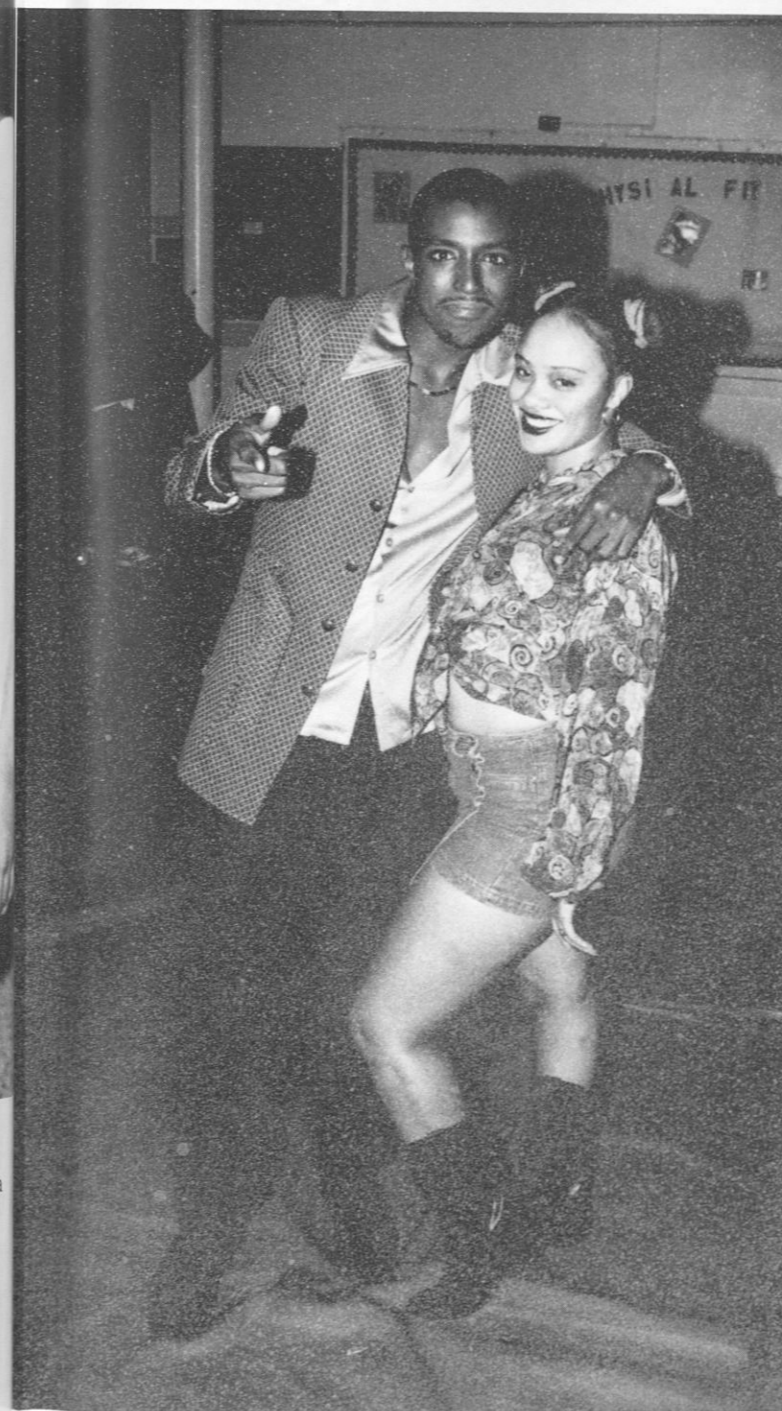

Not only were these ladies thinking of Dancin' the night away to the sounds of K.C. and the Sunshine Band, A Taste of Honey, The Village People, Donna Summers and Shalamar, but they also wanted to let everybody know that their favorite song of the night was a 1979 number one smash hit by the group Sister Sledge titled "We Are Family"

(Above left) Maybe it was the song "I Love the Nightlife (Disco 'Round)" a 1978 hit by Alicia Bridges that was set in her mind as the night progressed.

(Above right) Or maybe it was "Ladies Night" by Kool and the Gang (1979) that got her all slicked up for the party

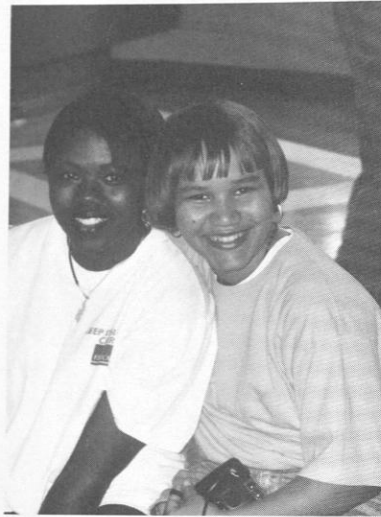

(Above) Maybe Chic's smash hit "Good Times" (1979) fuel this partygoer to fizz up her hair and get all leathered up for what was to be the party of the year.

(Left) Maybe it was the sounds of Heatwave singing "Boogie Nights" (1976) that fuel this couple to get out on the dance floor and not only show off their retro 70's look but also do the bump and pose.

The National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) is currently composed of eight National Greek letter Fraternities and Sororities: Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

“Unanimity of thought and action” was the main stated purpose of the NPHC that was organized in 1930 on the campus of Howard University in Washington, DC. Today, the NPHC is headquartered in Indiana and the function of the organization is to promote interaction, encourage cooperation and provide support for each member fraternity and sorority. Through national and regional conferences, meetings and an NPHC newsletter, members exchange information and address issues of mutual concern.

The bond that unites each organization is its dedication to addressing the societal ills of racism and poverty that are the root cause of many other issues that plague the African American community. As each member organization has grown in scope, the NPHC has also evolved as well. Its continued legacy of promoting unity and social action has moved the African American community forward and has forever changed American society as a whole.

Here at Tuskegee University we have the following group of the NPHC organizations currently on our campus: Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA Sorority was founded in 1908 at Howard University. The founders, Ethel Hedgeman Lyle and 15 other young ladies, envisioned an organization which would promote social and economic betterment on the local, state, national and international levels.

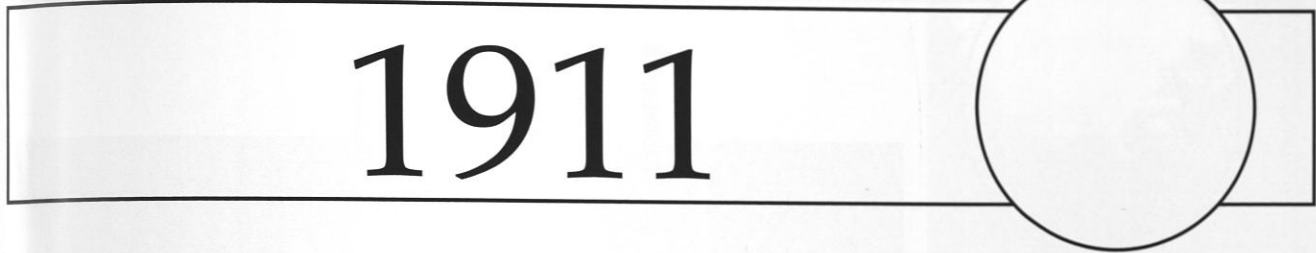

Moving forward from this beginning, Alpha Kappa Alpha began to impact on college trained women to build through its members a power base throughout the United States, West Africa, the Caribbean, Germany and anywhere that Alpha Kappa Alpha women live or work. The official publication is the Ivy Leaf.

As the demands of society become more diverse and pressing, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority has evolved with the times. She has founded and developed programs and initiatives that parallel her initial objectives and current purposes. The Sorority actively cultivates and encourages high scholastic and ethical standards, promotes unity and friendship among college women, alleviates problems concerning girls and women, and maintains a progressive interest in college life. Through these activities, Alpha Kappa Alpha women fulfill the commitment embodied in her theme of “Service To All Mankind”

At the inception of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, founded by twenty-two young women in 1913 at Howard University, the founders envisioned an organization of college women who believe in serious and strong community endeavor. Through its programs and activities Delta has demonstrated its vital concern for the social welfare, academic excellence and cultural enrichment of its members while de-emphasizing the social side of sorority life. Their ideals of scholarship and service have withstood the test of time.

Today, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority is a private nonprofit organization whose purpose is to provide services and programs to promote human welfare. The sorority stresses the importance of scholarship and character, dedication to a program of sharing membership skills and organizational services in the public interest.

Delta Sigma Theta's chapters are located throughout the United States, the Virgin Islands, the Caribbean, Germany and West Africa. The Official publication of the sorority is the Delta.

Delta's major program activity takes place at the chapter level where local chapters use their membership, training and resources to meet community needs.

Early in the century, black students were actively dissuaded from attending college. Formidable obstacles were erected to prevent the few who enrolled from assimilating into curricular campus life. This social ostracism characterized Indiana University on January 5, 1911 and cause Byron K. Armstrong and Elder W. Diggs, joined by eight black students to form Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity which remains the only Greek letter organization with its Alpha chapter on the University's campus.

The founders sought a formula that would immediately raise the sights of black collegians and stimulate them to accomplish higher than they might have imagined. Fashioning achievement as its purpose, Kappa Alpha Psi began uniting college men of culture. Patriotism and honor in a bond on fraternity. Chapters spread in succession to the University campuses. By 1919, Kappa Alpha Psi activity had generated serious interest among black college degree holders to form alumni chapters. The Fraternity's chapters are arrayed in hundreds of cities and on a great number of campuses in the United States and Foreign countries.

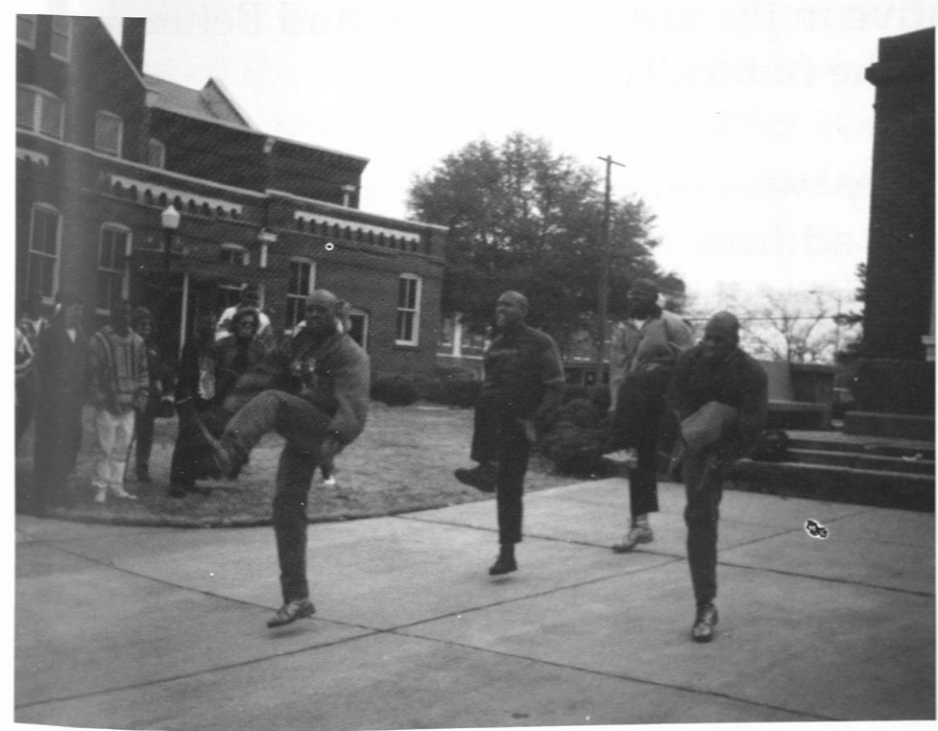

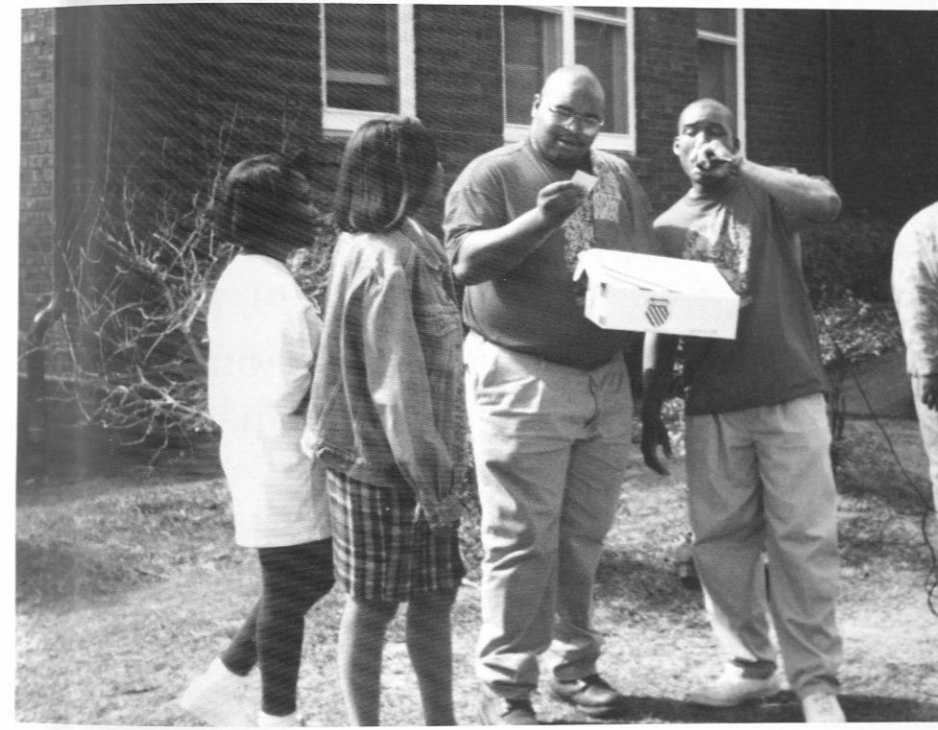

Kappa Alpha Psi encourages school and college attendance, promotes academic achievement, provide guidance for career selection, develops and communicate public policy statements on issues affecting local and national concerns and advances social actin and self-help projects in the black community.

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was founded at Howard University, Washington, DC, on November 17, 1911 by Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper, Frank Coleman and Dr. Ernest E. Just. It was the first men's Greek-letter social organization on a black campus. The fraternity has more than 600 undergraduate and graduate chapters in the United States as well as chapters in Africa, Asia, the Virgin Islands, the Bahamas, and Germany.

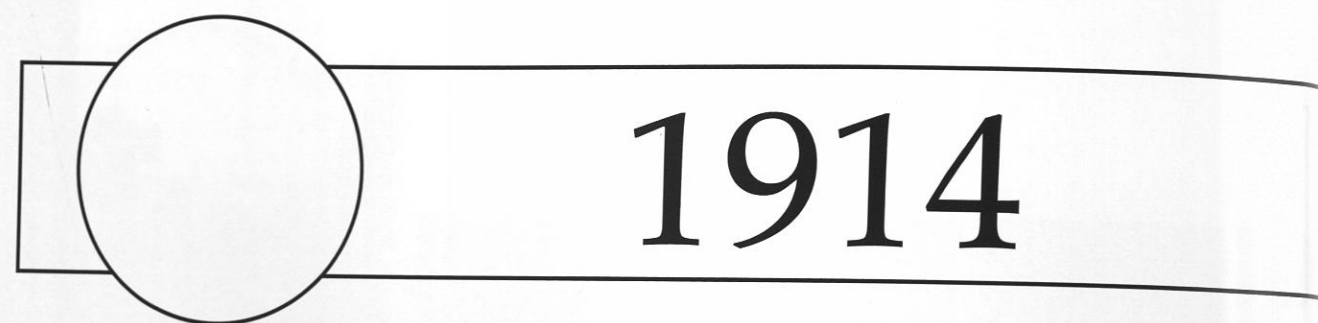

Omega Psi Phi's purpose is to bring about a union of college men of similar high ideals and ambitions of its members; occupy a progressive helpful and constructive place in the political life of the of the community and nations; and foster the humanity Freudian and dignity of the individual; and aid downtrodden humanity in its efforts to achieve higher economic and intellectual statue.

In 1949, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity along with all other similar Greek letter organizations, deleted from its constitution and ritual, any references to race, creed or color. In 1949 the fraternity was among the first to establish a national headquarters with a full time executive secretary.

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, was founded by Langston Taylor, Leonard F. Morse and Charles I. Brown on the campus of Howard University in Washington, DC on January 9, 1914. This brotherhood has grown to include chapters throughout the United States Europe, Africa, Asia and the Caribbean.

The 1920's were especially productive for Phi Beta Sigma. It was during that decade that the fraternity begun publication of its official organ, The Crescent, established its scholarship fund; charted its Distinguished Service Chapter and launched its first national service initiative in the area of "Bigger and Better Business" all milestones in the fraternity.

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity was conceived as a service-oriented organization working to address the needs of our respective communities. The resulting commitment, as embodied in the fraternity motto, "Culture for Service and Service for Humanity" has promoted the fraternity's ongoing efforts to meaningfully impact upon the areas of education, business development, social justice and youth development.

Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity's theme as we approach the year 2000 is: "Sigma Focus on Issues that Impact the African American Male to Strengthen America's Communities."

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority was founded on November 12, 1922 at Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana. The story began with the dream of seven young women who understood the need for greater service and achievement through higher education. To attain this they formed a Greek-letter organization for teachers and educators.

Responsibility, stability, purpose and self respect set the level of scholastic expectancy for the chapters, members and pledges of the organization. Collective striving for these qualities of character is necessary for consistently good scholarship. An excellent standard in scholarship was and is directly related to the precepts of quality and character.

Sigma Gamma Rho offer young people an identification with the community through activities that are natural and appealing to the community service, leadership training and education of youth are the guiding forces of the sorority's programs and activities.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority was organized at Howard University on January 16, 1920, as the result of the encouragement given to the five founders by Charles Taylor and Langston Taylor, members of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. They felt the campus would profit by the development of such an organization's sisters to the fraternity.

As a result, Arizona Cleaver, Viola Tyler, Myrtle Tyler, Pearl Neal and Fannie Pettie became founders of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority. Thus in 1920 Zeta Phi Beta and Phi Beta Sigma became the first official Greek-letter sister and brother organizations to share a common constitution.

Zeta Phi Beta was the first Greek-letter organization to charter a Chapter in Africa (1948), the first to form an auxiliary group, the Amicae (Friends of Zeta) and, the first to formulate youth auxiliary groups, the Amicettes.

The objectives of finer womanhood, sisterly love, scholarship and service have brought together women from all parts of the nation and numerous countries, women who have similar ideals, tastes and aspirations. Women in Zeta are a dynamic force dedicated to the principle of working together to improve the human condition by encouraging the highest standards of scholarship through scientific, literary, cultural and educational programs, and to promote service projects on college campuses in the local community. The Official publication is the Archon

Football

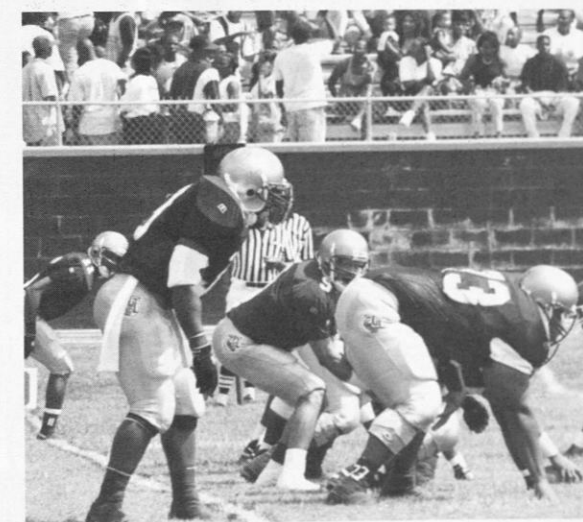

The Tuskegee University Golden Tigers completed their 1994 football season, the 101 season with a 6-5 overall record, their first winning season since 1991. TU finished 6-2 in the SIAC, good enough for second place. The two lone setbacks in the conference came against SIAC champion Albany State and Alabama A & M. The Golden Tigers trailed Albany State 9-6 at the start of the fourth quarter before losing 29-6 and lead Alabama A & M 14-0 at halftime before falling 39-22.

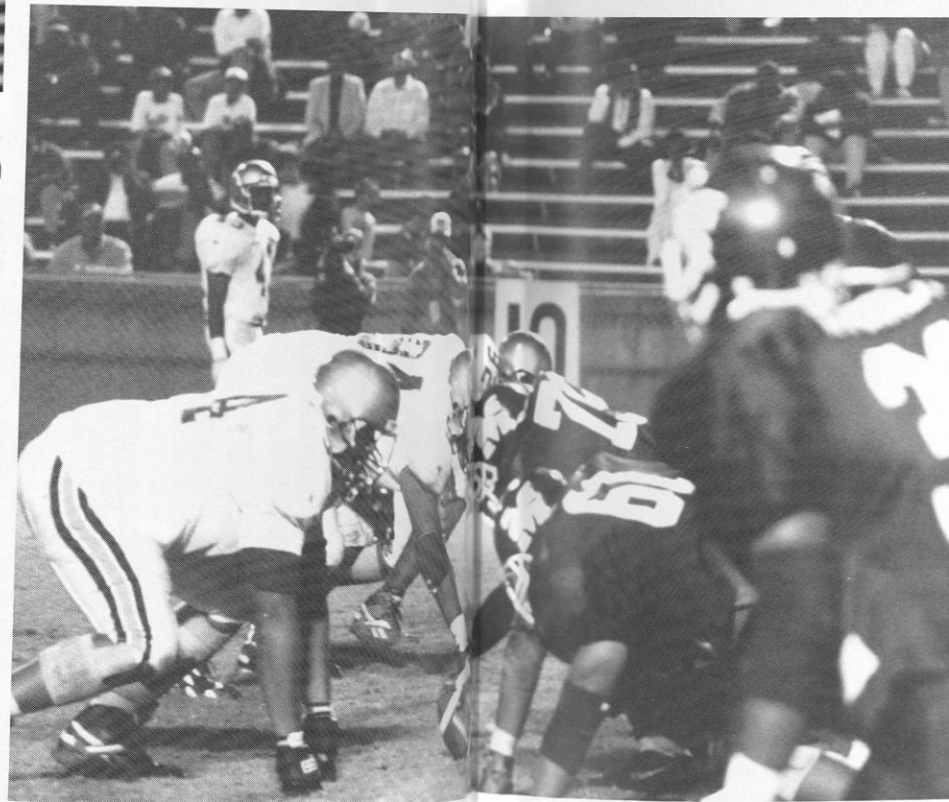

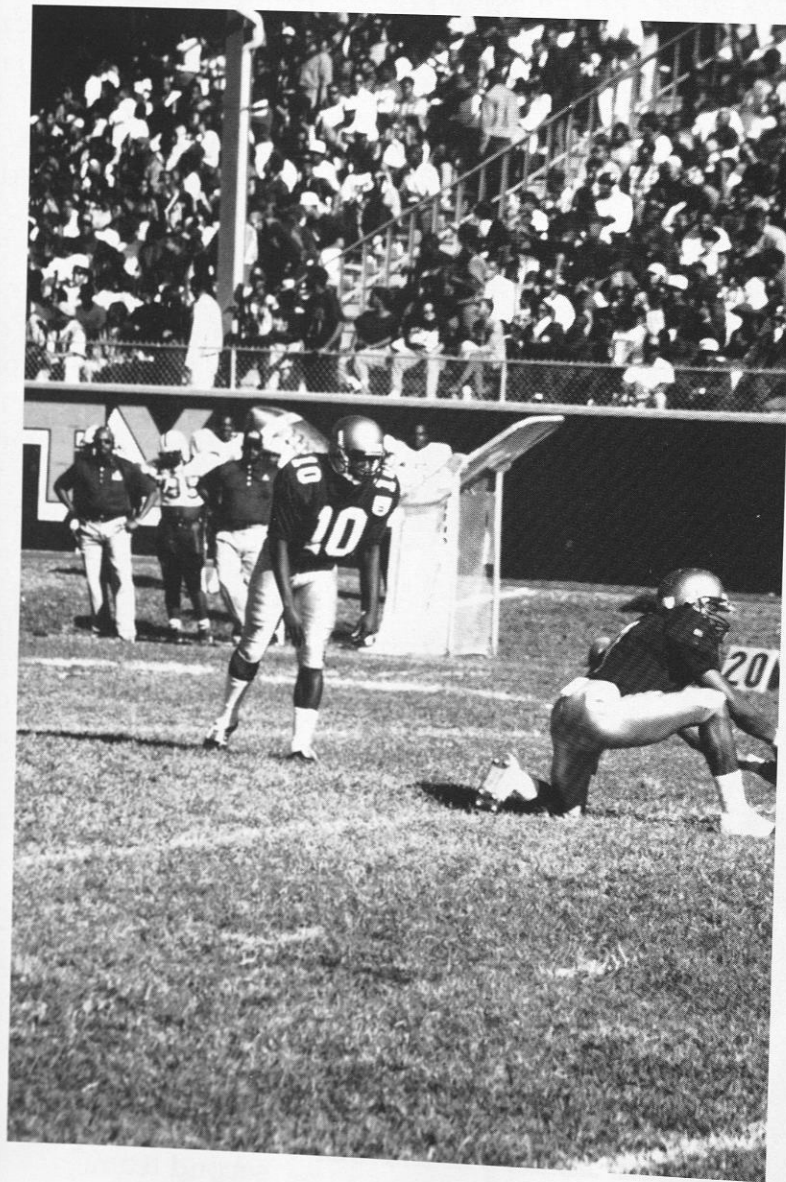

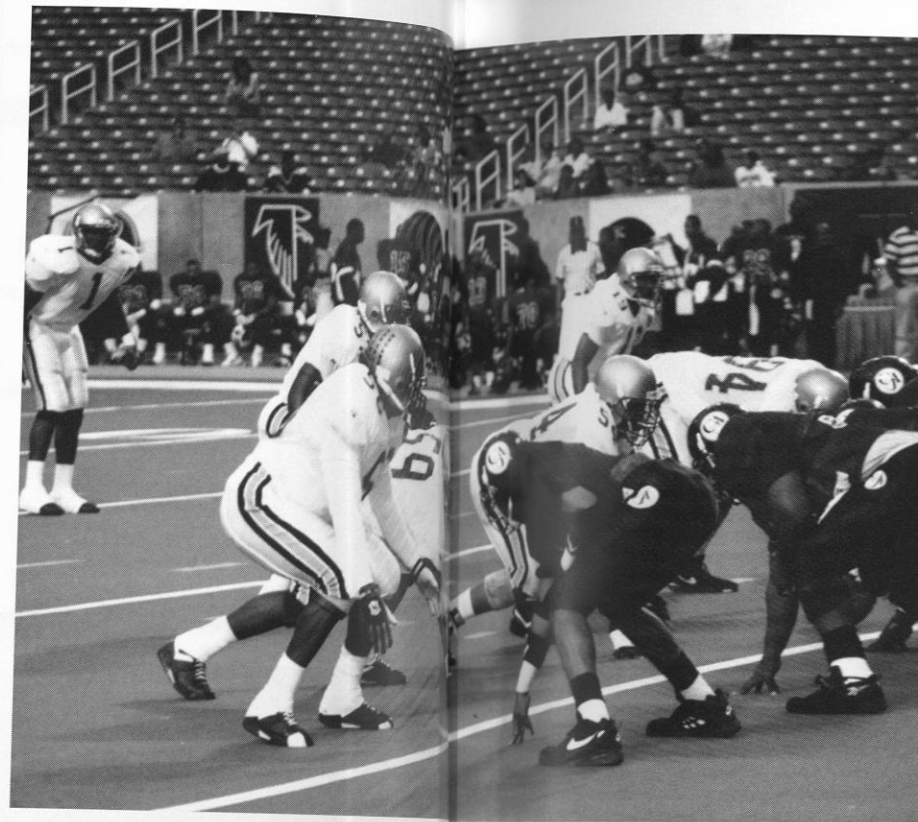

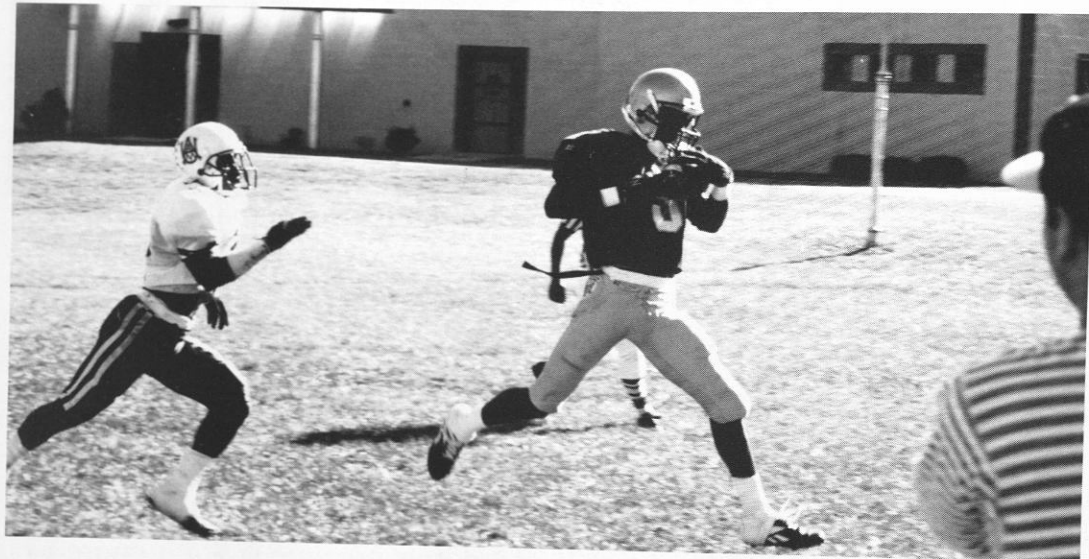

The Golden Tigers averaged 347.00 yards per game while yielding 307.9 to opponents. The offense's 229.1 yards per game was rated number one in the SIAC. TU yielded 20.7 points per game and generated 22.1 points per game. Sophomore quarterback Page Dennis engineered 30 touchdowns after taking over the starting job in the fourth quarter of the opening game against Florida A & M. Dennis completed 164 of 303 passes for 2,347 yards and 14 touchdowns. He rushed for 6 additional touchdowns. Sophomore running back Andre' Dawson gained 821 yards and scored 6 touchdowns. An Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

We welcome and encourage diversity in our workplace.

World of Opportunity

In the early 1980's GE set out to become the most competitive business enterprise in the world. It was not just a proclamation, but a commitment to achieve market share leadership in a remarkable diverse portfolio of businesses in the technology, manufacturing and services sectors. Today, eleven of GE's thirteen major businesses are either world or national leaders. And though our financial services and communications businesses are too diverse for single market share measurements, they are of scale and potential appropriate to a 54 billion dollar company. The challenge to maintain world leadership in an enterprise as broad as ours requires competitive excellence in every aspect of every business function. Most of all, it requires people who thrive on competing with and for the best. People who view global challenges as a world of opportunity. If you are that kind of person, we'd like to meet you.

GE is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

You're looking for more than a job. You want a challenging career. One that lets you climb to the top your own way. In an environment that encourages you to reach your peak both personally and professionally. You're looking for Schlumberger.

All it takes is your...

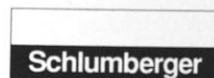

INDIVIDUAL INITIATIVE

The Schlumberger Companies value individual initiative. Because that's where innovation comes from. And innovation, more than any other factor, keeps Schlumberger at the pinnacle of achievement in a broad range of technologies.

If you'd rather lead than follow, and enjoy the recognition that goes with taking responsibility for the work you direct, contact us today. We'll give you all the support, training and opportunity you need to meet the challenge.

Currently seeking individuals with the following BS or MS degrees:

- Chemical Engineering
- Mechanical Engineering
- Electrical Engineering
- Civil Engineering
- Petroleum Engineering
