Foreword

A four-year period spent at a college necessarily involves many antithetical moods: happiness, sadness, losses and gains. We have all had a share in the happiness of college life: parties, weekends, the final grade which was higher than expected, successful participation in either varsity or intramural competition, winning an election, or the contentment that is derived from sitting in the classroom and being taught.

Sadness touched us' all individually and collectively on graduation day. We have all begun to feel the losses; friends whom we shall never see again, dormitory life, qualified and outstanding intellectual guidance. Truly the years spent in college are golden ones and represent a loss that can never be regained. The gains, however, have far outweighed the losses, as deepseated as those losses may be.

We are mature men and women now, capable of meeting and facing crises; educated men and women able to seek a place in life; we have forged or are in the process of forging a philosophy of life. These gains, however, are intangibles. We know that we have matured, our ideas have changed, and our outlook toward life has widened. But the college community is a very small and circumscribed segment of society. The atmosphere of a college community is different from that of any other and the question which is paramount in our minds is whether or not we shall be able to cope with the happenings of the wide, wide world.

A College is many things . . . Tuskegee Institute is many things to many people . . . It is a place where a student may be told by those who know . . . and search things out for himself . . . where he may dig a hole . . . and aspire to the stars . . . where he may work . . . and play . . . where he may listen and talk and exchange ideas with others from far and near . . . and where he may finally achieve a respected goal . . . this is Tuskegee Institute . . .

DR. ROBERT D. REID
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.

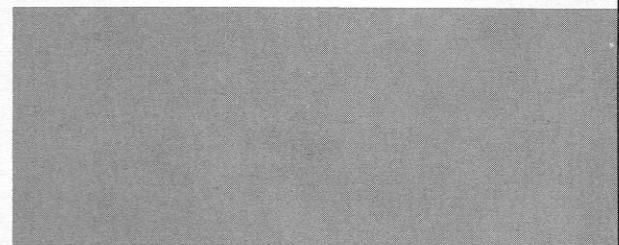

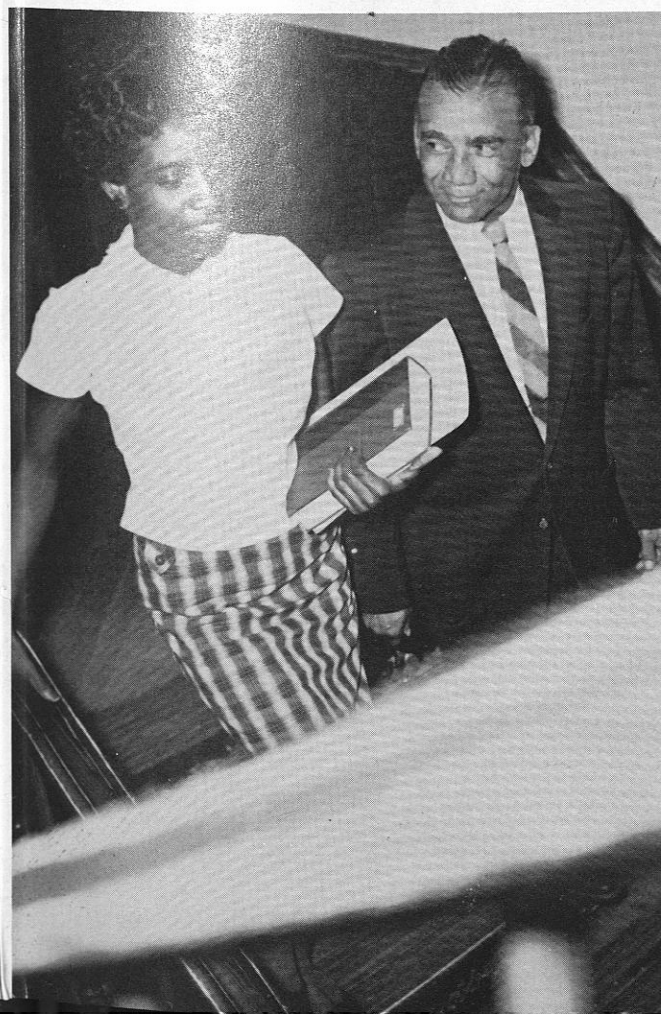

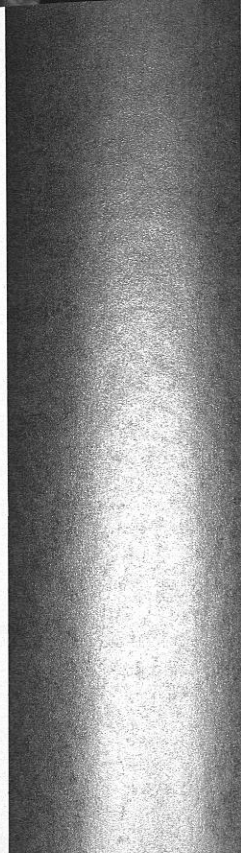

The term dedication has many connotations, but the one that best fits this occasion is evidenced in the following phrase: "It is the act of devoting one's self as well as his artifacts to service." "For ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

We humbly dedicate this book to Dr. Robert D. Reid that it might serve as a reminder to succeeding generations of students here that through the efforts of such a man as this has come the greatness of Tuskegee. As the Institute is dedicated to the furthering of our democratic society through education, so this man has dedicated himself to education through his service to the Institute. May the effect that this man has had on our Institute community be felt at last on the world community.

Thus, out of deep faith in his integrity, limitless respect for his capabilities, and an assurance that he has made the true spirit of Tuskegee live; the staff respectfully dedicates this achievement record of the school year 1959-60 to him. May this dedication serve as an incentive for him to continue to inspire students in the future thus remembering that a man is as high as he feels, as low as he looks, and as efficient as his work testifies.

Finally let us borrow a few lines from a fine piece of literary work, "The Builder"—"Old man, why do you build this bridge? Your days shall end with the setting sun—You never again shall pass this way." The old man said, "I know, but some fair haired youth shall come, dear friend, I am building this bridge for him."

Meritorious Recognition

"Great acts grow out of great occasions and great occasions spring from great principles, working changes in society, and tearing it up by the roots."

—WILLIAM HAZLITT

Dr. Charles G. Gomillion, in his every effort, has confirmed this quotation by upholding the many principles that lead to successful community living. Because of his untiring efforts in the field of Human Relations he has achieved national and international recognition which strategically positions him for greater endeavors.

In addition to his many civic duties he is president of the Tuskegee (Alabama) Civic Association, Chairman of the Division of Social Science, Tuskegee Institute, Alabama. Dr. Gomillion is a native of Johnson, South Carolina; Alumnus of Paine College, Augusta, Georgia; Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Paine College, National Alumni Association; Alumnus of the Ohio State University, where he received his Ph.D. degree; Member of the Alabama State Teachers Association, the Alabama Council on Human Rights and Relations, the Association for the study of Negro life and History, the Southern Sociological Society, the American Humanist Association, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, and the Christian Methodist Church; a director of the Alabama Association for Registration and voting of the Highlander Folk School at Monteagle, Tennessee, of the Southern Regional Council; a life member of the American Teachers Association, and of the N.A.A.C.P.; Life member of the Tuskegee (Alabama) Civic Association.

The members of the Senior Class are grateful and privileged to have had the association with so noble a citizen.

*All things climb a starry stair,
By a law that no man knows.
What was yesterday a thorn
Shall tomorrow be a rose.*

CORD ORMENTA FANT

Miss Fant had talents that attracted the attention of Mr. R. A. Flake, director of the campaign Department, and she was offered a position as a clerk. She practically grew up in that Department and served there for 44 years, giving loyal, faithful and conscientious service until her recent illness. Her long period of service was devoted principally to assisting in raising funds for Tuskegee Institute. Her work was recently consolidated with that of the Development office, now located in the "Oaks." Prior to establishing her residence in Tuskegee, Miss Fant attended Benedict College, Columbia, South Carolina.

In 1939 Miss Fant compiled "The Pictorial History of Tuskegee Institute."

Miss Fant received her Bachelor of Science degree from Tuskegee Institute in 1940.

In Memoriam

*"No longer mourn for me when I am dead
Than you shall hear the surly, sullen bell
Give warning to the world that I am fled
From this vile world, with vilest worms to dwell."*

—WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

JOHN HENRY FLAKE

To the campus, Mr. Flake was known as Officer Flake. He was employed by Tuskegee Institute in 1900 as head of the Horse Farm and School of Transportation. Later, he was made Chief of Police of the School, therefore, becoming "Officer Flake." But to many in the community he was known as "Brother John." He retired holding the capacity of "Chief of Police."

Administration

The Administrative staff is an integral part of a college. Their interest in Students and every phase of the institution is reflected in friendliness, vision, and efficiency, which combine to stimulate expansion of Tuskegee and make it a place in which to work and play.

Managing a College, which is rapidly expanding in all categories, proved a genuine challenge to the staff. Their services and guidance have extended beyond Tuskegee in Alabama to reach students from other states and countries.

The Board of Trustees

A TRIBUTE TO THE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

At least once a year members of the Board of Trustees gather at Tuskegee to make important decisions affecting the Institute. They hear reports and proposals and present plans of their own. They mull over ideas brought out in Board meetings and weigh them against the objectives of Tuskegee Institute. Only men and women devoted to Tuskegee and to its high objectives would give sacrificial service to the Institute as do Members of the Board of Trustees.

Because of their unselfish service to the Institute the 1960 Tuskegeana Staff, with the approval of the Senior Class, is honored to pay Tribute to the Members of the Board of Trustees.

CLASS

SENIORS, You have crossed the threshold to the beginning of a new experience: The foundation that was given to you by our beloved faculty and administration at Tuskegee Institute can only materialize through your individual efforts. It is easy to say, "I have reached the height of my ambition and to go any further up the ladder of success would be utterly impossible." But remember the words of Robert Browning . . . "A man's reach should exceed his grasp or what's a heaven for" . . . with this in mind, and in our time, there should be no limits to one's achievement. We shall take the liberty to predict that the class of '60 shall make those to whom we are indebted for our present status as proud of their association with us as we are to have been members of the Tuskegee Family.

CLASS

With but one rung yet to go on the ladder of our college life, we have weathered the storms for three years, and now we face the final step, the final year to prepare us for our life's work.

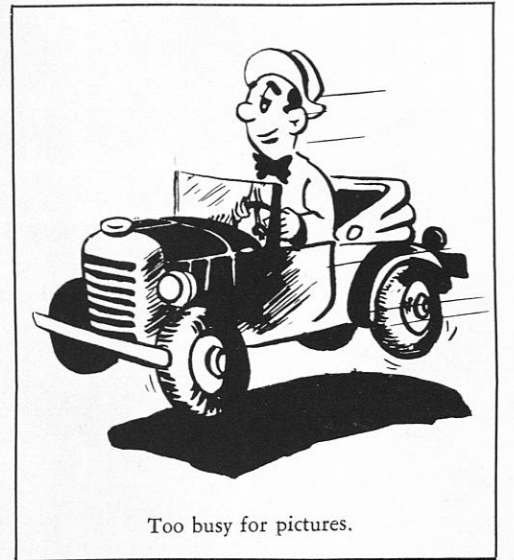

Upon completing this third year, we have not only set our standards but also our ideals and goals. Our main objective now is to put them to useful benefit for ourselves and mankind. We become Seniors with pride and the courage with whatever it takes to face the hardships that may arise next year and the years to come.

Fine Arts

THE AIM OF ART

"Artistic creations spring from the formative impulse and the craving for emotional expressions. The aim of art is to represent not the outward appearance of things, but their inward significance: For this, and not the external mannerism and detail, is true reality."

—Aristotle**

CAMPUS LIFE

Tuskegee Institute's students are like other students—in some ways. They loaf in the student center when they should be writing papers and do their studying while others sleep. They blame most things on the administration and the rest on the faculty. They cut class and later claim the instructor gives examinations on material he failed to mention in class. They have a lot to gripe about, but enjoy living anyway. Students everywhere are like that, but "Skegee's" people are different in some ways, too. Students at Tuskegee Institute are friendly. Freshmen learn about the Institute friendliness during orientation week, when upperclassmen roll out the welcome mat and greet the newcomers. Everybody is somebody at Tuskegee.

Tuskegee Institute students are co-operative. The Institute's Homecoming is staged by numerous campus organizations working together to build floats and decorate for everyone to have a good time.

Many students at Tuskegee Institute are concerned about others. Organizations collect clothes for the needy and during campus fund week students donate generously to the annual chest drive. They give to the U.N.C.F. Students help at the V.A. under the volunteer program of the Junior Red Cross Chapter at Tuskegee Institute. They also help sponsor the March of Dimes Campaign and give generously themselves. In some ways students like these singing Carols at Christmas time are different because of Tuskegee Institute.

Sections have been dedicated to presidents, outstanding alumni, untiring teachers, and many others who have become eminent through educational achievements. Tribute has been paid to those who gave their lives in defense of our greatest possession—freedom. Recognition has been paid to persons who have served unselfishly on the staff for many years.

We feel it only fitting, then, that this section of the Tuskeana should serve as an exemplification, of our gratitude to those who may not have achieved educational recognition, or who have not necessarily become eminent scholars, but who make it possible for education to become a reality.

Thus, it is to YOU:

THE UNSUNG HEROES OF EDUCATION

OUR DEAR PARENTS

Fredrick Dudley, one of the outstanding players of the year.

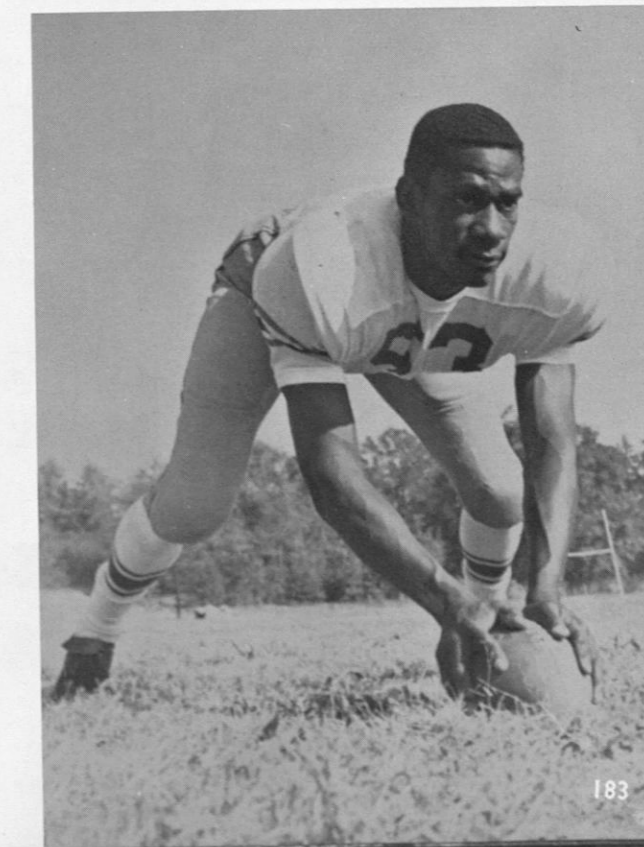

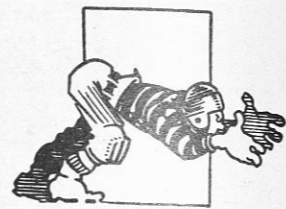

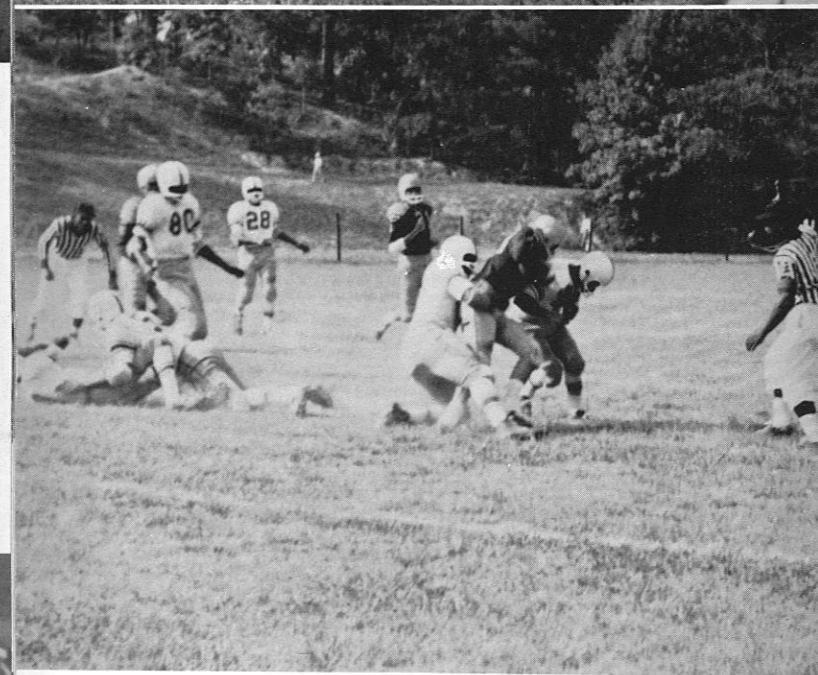

The Golden Tigers were challenged by the Fisk University Bulldogs in the Alumni Bowl and scored first against the Tigers. Suddenly the Tigers were ready to go to work. A complete pass from Eddie Peters to our sensational Freshman half-back Harrell Moore brought the game to a deadlock.

The Tigers scored in every quarter that followed and the final score was 28-8.

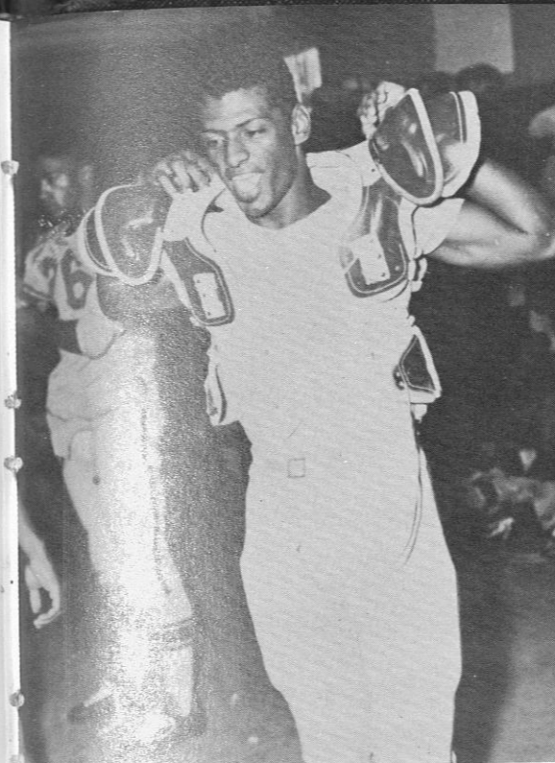

Robert Duckworth knows he must tape everything so as to be at his best before the "rival game" Alabama State. He realizes this is the last game for the seniors.

The Golden Tigers' opponents for their first home game were the Gold Rushes of Xavier University. The contest was a real test for the Tigers defensively as well as offensively.

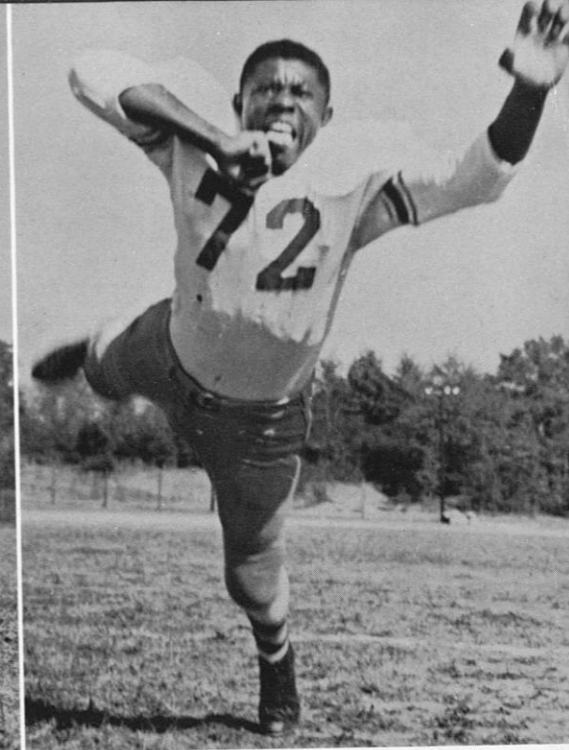

After a grueling defensive battle by the Tigers led by Fredrick "Toe" Dudley, the Gold Rushes finally scored in the third period and led the Tigers by a score 6-0 until late in the fourth period. Superb ball-handling plus a variety of well executed plays by Eddie Peters, William Dillard and Willie Williams. Willie Williams passed to Glover Jones late in the fourth period to tie the score, and the point after the touchdown was good, and the Tigers won by a score of 7-6.

Donald Steward, adjusting shoulder pads before the game.

Roommates Duckworth and Holland bid each other farewell after playing four years together. Two of the Golden Tigers "Outstanding Ends."

Holland puts one of his crushing tackles on Duckworth. Holland hails from Houston, Texas, while Duckworth is from Pensacola, Florida.

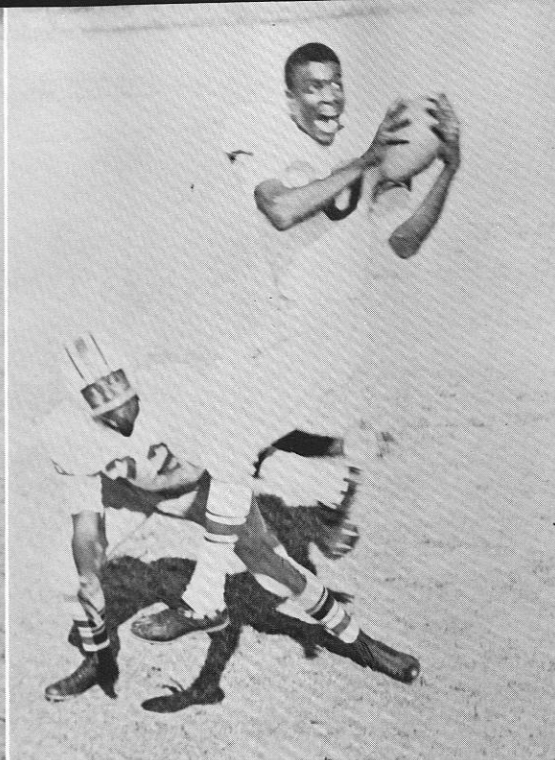

The Golden Tigers yet to be defeated on their home grounds were challenged by the Bears of Miles College, who were two touchdown favorites over the Golden Tigers.

The Tigers knew what they had to do and went to work scoring four touchdowns to the Bears two. This was the most thrilling Homecoming contest in years, because the Tigers had never beaten the Bears before. The final score was 33-14.

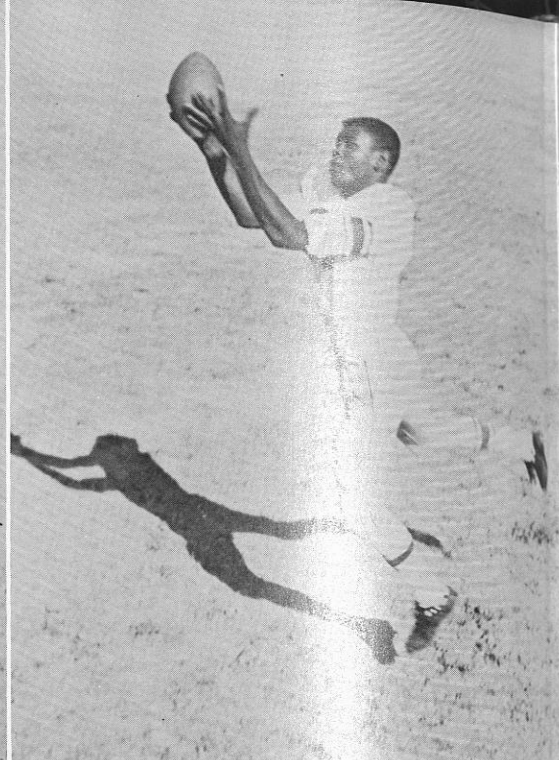

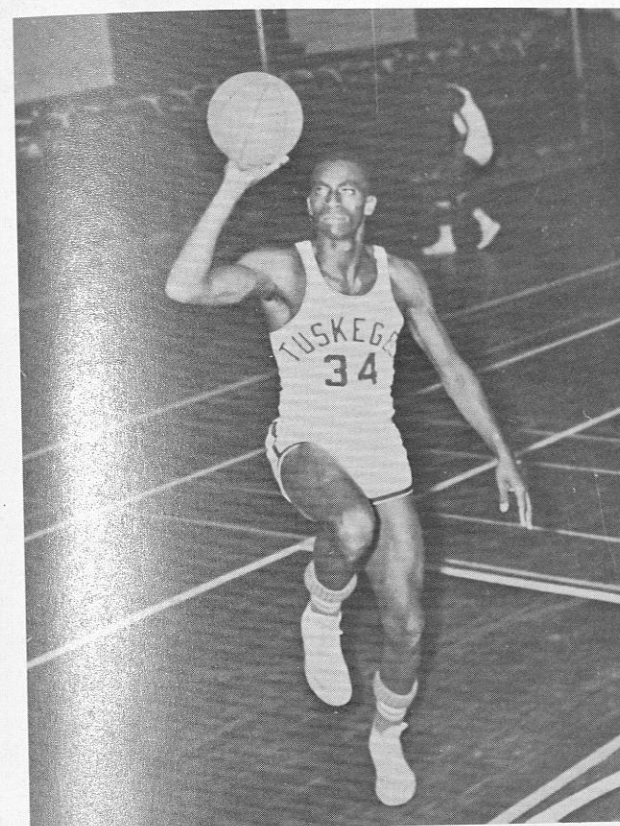

The Fabulous "Batman" demonstrates one of his pet catches.

The Tigers finally scored again on a pass from Willie Williams to Glover Jones. The final score was 12-0.

Acknowledgement

When the last deadline is approaching and the yearbook is almost completed, the Editor has time to stop and think about the people with whom he worked. At that time an Editor realizes he is especially grateful for the help a dozen or so people gave. Here are some people the editor of the 1960 TUSKEANA and the student body need to THANK:

Mr. Charles Trout, advisor, kept a fire burning under the editor. "How are things looking?" he would ask. If things were looking good the editor would say so; If work was looking slow, Mr. Trout's inquiry was a challenge to do better.

Mrs. Thomas was always cooperative in anything the staff wanted to do in the line of turning out a good yearbook.

Samuel Chatman always had plenty to say, but came up with some very good suggestions and ideas, was always willing to work in any position on the staff.

Shirley Bouie very talkative, but did her job well, and always willing to do what ever she could to help.

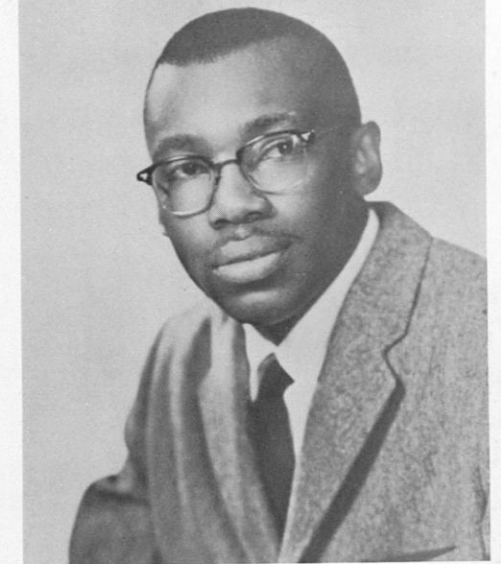

Charlie Brown, what is her title? Couldn't find one to fit, she was capable of doing most anything that was to be done extra, she was best at picking spot designs and drawing symbols for organizations.

James Dillard kept the various organizations informed about deadlines and material to be turned into the Tuskeana office on time to make the deadlines.

Mr. Polk and Mr. Hawkins, photographers, worked very diligently in getting photographs ready for the layout. There are many more staff members and friends who helped make this 1960 Tuskeana a success; Kattie Gilliam, Willie N. Ivery, Thomas Barnwell, Carrie Shepherd, Eugene Robinson, Willie Hall and Anita Leggett.

Looking back over trials and tribulations we can honestly say that we have really enjoyed putting out the 1960 TUSKEANA. It was well worth our time and everyone seemed to survive. We feel as though we have given you an annual of which you can be proud. We have enjoyed the TUSKEANA; We hope you will too.
