

TUSKEGEE
NEGRO FARMERS
CONFERENCE

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1938
Tuskegee Institute, Alabama

Booker T. Washington

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE

Cordially invites you, your family and friends to attend the

Forty-Eighth Annual Conference

Conference Theme:

"Balanced Farming for Greater Income and for Better Living"

Established by BOOKER T. WASHINGTON

F. D. PATTERSON, President

PREFACE

In anticipation of a change in our type of farming—a change which has been forecast by industrial developments in pulp mills, starch factories, tung oil production, forestry, soil conservation and the increased interest in live stock production throughout the South, the Forty-Eighth Annual Negro Farmers' Conference has as its theme, "Balanced Farming for Greater Income and for Better Living." Stable and noteworthy rural citizenship depends upon secure farm life. Increased farm income such as will make for satisfaction on the part of farm people cannot be had until an improved system of farming is evolved which is in keeping with the demands of this age. The Third Annual Farm and Home Week and the Forty-Eighth Annual Conference have endeavored to bring to farmers and agricultural workers in attendance the best that the facilities of Tuskegee Institute have to offer.

PROGRAM OF THE FORTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL NEGRO FARMERS' CONFERENCE

DECEMBER 14, 1928

MORNING SESSION

Alumni Bowl

- 10:00—Farmers' Judging Contest and Livestock Show
- 10:00-10:30—Livestock Parade into the Bowl
- 10:30-12:00—Livestock Judging and Farm Demonstration
- 12:00-12:15—Livestock Parade out of the Bowl
- 12:15- 1:15—Forty-Eighth Annual Barbecue Lunch, Alumni Bowl

AFTERNOON SESSION

Logan Hall

- 1:30 p. m.—Spiritual _____ Led by Rev. Ford
Prayer _____ Rev. H. V. Richardson
Tuskegee Institute Chaplain
- Remarks _____ Mr. J. R. Otis
Director of Agriculture
- Welcome Address _____ Dr. F. D. Patterson
President of Tuskegee Institute
- Spiritual _____ Led by Mr. T. M. Campbell
Address _____ Mr. I. W. Duggan,
Director, Southern Division of AAA, Washington, D. C.
- Awarding of Certificates of Merit and Prizes
- 3:30—Adjournment—"The Lord Be with You 'Till We Meet Again